

FINANCIAL GAME PLAN: DO YOU HAVE ONE?

Money Management International (MMI) is the largest nonprofit, full-service credit counseling agency in the United States. MMI successfully achieves its mission to improve lives through financial education by offering a wide array of money management programs and tools, providing high-quality counseling services, and being involved in local community activities. Individuals are able to contact MMI 24 hours a day, seven days a week for one-on-one assistance with their personal financial matters. Visit MoneyManagement.org/NFL for more information about all of the services MMI provides.

NFL Player Engagement has partnered with MMI to provide players and their families with free, unbiased financial education and counseling services that can be customized to meet each player's unique needs. Through confidential, individual financial coaching sessions, you can...

- Learn how to successfully create and follow a budget.
- Learn how to grow your money while considering risk, diversification, and asset allocation.
- Receive a Tri-Merge Credit Report Review and learn how to understand a credit report and the importance of maintaining good credit.
- Learn the advantages and disadvantages of using credit and form strategies to help get current debt under control and minimize future debt.
- Learn how to create a successful savings program to help achieve short- and long-term financial goals.
- Learn the questions to ask a financial advisor and CPA as you begin to form your financial team
- Form strategies to have crucial conversations with family and friends surrounding finances

This beneficial partnership gives you and your family an opportunity to receive the guidance and education needed to make responsible financial decisions throughout your NFL career and well into retirement.
